

Technical Bulletin Ozone Depleting Substances

Final rulings have been made by the EPA concerning the labeling requirements for products “containing” or “manufactured with” ozone depleting substances. Marathon Special Products is pleased to inform you that none of our products will require labeling under these regulations.

We are proud to be an environmentally conscious manufacturer and will continue to work both internally and with our supplier base to ensure that we will continue to meet ever-stricter requirements.